DAY 2 – MAY 12 – DUNDEE, SCOTLAND

Situated on the Tay estuary, Dundee is Scotland's sunniest city. It has also earned the accolade of being a UNESCO City of Design-the first in the UK to be awarded the honor. Dundee certainly made its mark on the world as an innovation hub. Yet, the star of Dundee's Discovery Point show is the RRS Discovery, a three-masted beauty of a 1901 vessel that, with Captain Scott at the helm, expanded the frontiers of exploration in Antarctica. Spend some time exploring Mains Castle and Dundee's particular Mercat Cross. Before leaving Dundee, be sure to ascend the 572-foot peak known as The Law.

DAY 3 – MAY 13 – AT SEA

DAY 4 – MAY 14 – ABERDEEN, SCOTLAND

When the sun shines on the Victorian buildings of Aberdeen, the facades sparkle with an allure that beckons you and other explorer spirits to discover its many charms. Once the world capital of granite (the reason for the buildings' sparkle), it has earned the nickname the Granite City. Amid old cottages and cobblestone streets, there are thousands of years of history to explore. Dive into the rich, seafaring past of the city at the Maritime Museum.

DAY 5 – MAY 15 – STAVANGER, NORWAY

Stavanger brings you to the intersection of historical and natural wonders. While officially incorporated as a city in 1125 CE, the earliest evidence of inhabitants traces back to 3,000 BCE. A stroll through Old Stavanger takes you to the historic residential area, one of Northern Europe's best-preserved wooden house settlements. Norway also contains a few prime surfing grounds, including the Jæren beaches. It's also the gateway to one of the most dramatic fjords, Lysefjord, and is best explored by kayak or stand-up paddleboard. Jutting nearly 2,000 feet above the fjord, Pulpit Rock, or Preikestolen, offers another stunning perspective.

DAY 6 – MAY 16 - BERGEN, NORWAY

When you think of Norway, among the images that come to mind are those of brightly painted wooden buildings with a backdrop of ice-capped mountains. This is Bergen, Norway's second-largest city that's an easy access gateway to the fjords. Start with an unforgettable funicular ride to the top of the iconic Mount Floyen, rising over 1,000 feet above sea level in a seamless eight minutes. Back on the ground, you will not tire of snapping images of Bergen's famous UNESCO World Heritage-listed Hanseatic wharf, Bryggen. You will also find that Bergen is a city for foodies, with a commitment to organic and sustainable food that has earned it the additional UNESCO designation of City of Gastronomy.

DAY 7 – MAY 17 - VIK (Sognefjord), NORWAY

Picture yourself breathing in the crisp, Nordic air as Sognefjord's sparkling waters stretch into the horizon like a sapphire serpent, beckoning you to uncover its secrets. Embark on a journey back in time with the Hopperstad Stave Church, a masterpiece of medieval architecture that stands proudly, its intricately carved wooden façade narrating tales from centuries past. The options for exploration are as boundless as the fjord itself. Indulge in local flavors as you savor the region's culinary delights, from the freshest seafood gifted by the fjord to the legendary Vik cheese, Gamalost, crafted with care and tradition.

DAY 8 – MAY 18 – NORDFJORDEID, NORWAY

Nestled in the heart of the Norwegian fjords, Nordfjordeid is a hidden gem that sparkles with the essence of nature and tradition. This picturesque port serves as your gateway to nature's untouched canvas, offering an inspiring blend of breathtaking landscapes and vibrant wildlife. DAY 9 – MAY 19 - ÅLESUND, NORWAY

Spread across three islands and ringed by dramatic mountains, Ålesund is imbued with whimsy and romance. In a small park at the base of Mount Aksla, you'll find a picture-postcard view of Ålesund, the Art Nouveau city center and the surrounding alpine landscapes of Sunnmøre. If dramatic views are what you seek, Trollstigen Road is an exciting roadway through enormous mountains, offering amazing views of Norway. The ultimate adventure is Trollveggen, the Troll Wall, which is the highest perpendicular rock face in Europe.

DAY 10 – MAY 20 – AT SEA

DAY 11 – MAY 21 – TROMSØ, NORWAY

Not only will you witness magnificent fjords and glaciers throughout Tromsø, Norway, but you will also immerse yourself in a sophisticated cultural life and architectural delights.
